Crash at Reilly's for 14 to 20 cents per yard. 2t

The Hon. D. W. Munn, who has, during a period of several weeks, been rusticated in the Green Mountains, returned home yesterday, in the enjoyment of excellent health.

Four quarter floor oil cloth at Reilly's at 50 cents per yard; and a good article at that.

"Barrett's" is not sticky or gummy.

The change in the temperature of the weather, this morning, excited very general remark. The thermometer dropped down to 65°, and a wind that swept over the city gave a chilliness to the atmosphere that one is accustomed to in November.

Nothing wanting in "Barrett's."

Jeans and woolen goods, generally, can be purchased at Reilly's at a less price than the same articles sell for in New York at wholesale. 2t

The professional card of Dr. H. Wardner appears in another column. The doctor is well known in Southern Illinois as a skillful, experienced and successful physician and surgeon, and enjoys a practice that indicates a proper appreciation of his worth as a professional man.

I. C. R. R. Funeral Trains.

Couches for funeral trains can be chartered on the basis of fifty passengers to each coach. All in excess of fifty will be required to pay the regular fare. Payment for such trains must, in all cases, be made in advance. A baggage car will be put on to carry the corpse and pall bearers; but no passengers will be allowed to ride in it.

The price is forty dollars for one coach and engine, no charge being made for the baggage car. Each additional coach, thirty dollars.

The Late Arab Celebration.

A little child of Mr. Schuh, a mere infant, tumbled into a cistern, at the corner of Commercial avenue and Tenth street, yesterday evening, and was rescued in a sound condition. The first outcries of the child were heard, else it might have drowned.

The cistern was about half-filled with water.

Juvenile Depravity.

A little boy not more than eleven or twelve years of age, appeared on the streets to-day, fairly reeling under the influence of liquor.

The saloon keeper who furnished this child liquor should be deprived of his license. The spectacle was shocking in the extreme.

The Hibernian Fire Company made application to the Board of Aldermen, last night, for the usual quarterly allowance. As this company has not been in very effective working shape of late, the propriety of the expenditure was seriously questioned, and the allowance was made on the condition that the officers of the company should satisfy the mayor that the condition of the company, as a portion of the fire department, warrants it.

We would also like to have some good men join us as we are sadly in need of more members.

A SEVERE ORDEAL.

A Steamboat hand is Beaten, Shot and Roasted.

If one Frank Moonie tells the truth our old time fellow citizen, Frank W. Bedard, is part owner of a steamer the officers of which are as heartless and cruel as so many Camanches. The name of the boat is Flirt. Moonie says that he was hired for a trip to the Rocky Mountains, but when about ninety miles below Fort Buford, he displeased the mate by tying a head line bunglingly. The mate flew into a passion, knocked the unoffending man down, kicked and beat him, shot him in the mouth, knocking out three of his teeth, and then landed him on a sand-bar, without food, and many miles from any traces of civilization. Moonie remained on the sand-bar 28 hours, when he mounted a log that came drifting by and floated down the river. The moment he reached the shore a party of red-skins took him in charge and conveyed him to their camp. After roasting him all night over a slow fire, and stripping him of every vestige of clothing, they drove him from their presence. He reached the bank of the Missouri, where he remained two days, praying for death to relieve him from his suffering. Finally the steamer Tacony hove in sight, and he succeeded in arresting the attention of the pilot, and was taken on board, and conveyed to Fort Buford, where he recovered sufficient strength to return to St. Louis. On his arrival at St. Louis he instituted suit against the Flint, first communicating his grievances to the reporter of the St. Louis 'Democrat,' that the public might know how badly he had fared among the red-skins and the scarcely less savage officers of the steamer Flirt.

Ladies' cloth gaiters, worth $2.00, can be had at Reilly's for $1.15. 2t

Quick Work.

Editors Bulletin: Permit me to acknowledge through your columns the prompt payment by the Home Insurance Company, of Columbus, Ohio, of their loss on the dwelling belonging to the estate of S. B. Halliday, deceased, which was destroyed by the fire of the 3d instant, and insured in that company for $1,000. I to-day received the amount through Safford, Morris & Candee, ($1,000.) Such a prompt paying company as this deserves a large amount of the public patronage.

Splendid French Merinos, worth $1.25 at $1.50 for 90 cents! Where? Why at Reilly's.

Didn't Like the Looks of Things.

The Saline county 'Register' regrets to see so much distrust manifested by the citizens of that locality concerning the future of the Cairo and Vincennes railroad. While the contractors, who are best acquainted with the ability and purposes of the company, expend their money and labor on the road, the people, who really have little or nothing directly at stake, are seized with alarming apprehensions.

This distrust was not entirely inexcusable. The third estimate day passed without bringing the contractors any money; and as the contractors themselves could not say with precision what might be expected, it was quite natural that the farmer, who was asked to sell his corn and bacon and hire out his horses and oxen on credit, should hesitate—even refuse.

Now, however, everything is in shape. The United States Railroad Construction Company stand at General Burnside's back, and say that the road shall be built, and that cash shall be paid as the work progresses. The farmers and merchants along the route may now furnish labor and material, and know what they are about—where the money is to come from. An increased confidence will be awakened, not by promises, but by deeds; and then if there are those who still croak "failure," "fraud;" "better be careful," etc., our cotemporary will be justified in visiting them in extreme wrath.

Sunday School Convention.

The Alexander County Sunday School Convention commenced its annual session in the M. E. Church this morning, the attendance being equal to expectation. Prof. Gillette, principal of the State deaf and dumb asylum, is present, and takes an active part in the proceedings. He is a forcible and eloquent speaker, and manifests a lively concern for the success of the good cause to which he is lending his efforts. The Rev. Mr. Williamson, of Chicago, an efficient and hardworking Sabbath School man, is also present.

The morning hours were devoted to organization, appointment of committees, reports, etc., a more extended allusion to which will be made to-morrow.

During the afternoon reports from schools were heard; the obligations of citizens and the relations of parents to Sabbath Schools discussed, which, with other matters were expected to prolong the meeting until 5 o'clock.

The children's meeting will be held this evening, at 8 o'clock, in the M. E. Church. Sabbath School children generally are expected, and should, if possible, attend.

A Brace of Confidence Men.

Tom Gladly and Nathan McLemore, a brace of colored sharpers, met a stranger named Henry Smith on our streets, some two or three weeks ago, and after a few common place remarks secured his attention to a curiously constructed box which the initiated, only, could open. The thing looked exceedingly simple. Mr. Smith had handled it; there was no mystery about it, and he was sure that he could open and shut it at pleasure. The negro rascals didn't think he could do so; they were sure they had never met a man who could, and so certain were they that Mr. Smith was mistaken they would bet all the money they had about them that he could not open the box. Smith had $25 and a railroad ticket to Chicago, and he would bet them. One of the negroes took out a pocket book, exhibited two twenty dollar gold pieces and a roll of bank bills, and put up the pocket book against Mr. Smith's $25 and ticket. They then passed the box to their victim, and much to his surprise it resisted his most determined efforts; the box he had opened so readily only a moment before, and in some mysterious manner, became utterly unopenable! The negroes fobbed the money and ticket, and left Mr. S. that much poorer.

Meeting Joe Arnold shortly afterwards Smith made known his loss and a description of the negroes; but by that time the rascals had left town. Two or three days ago they returned. Joe kept his eye on them, expecting to catch them at one of their confidence tricks, but wearying in waiting, he finally gobbled them as vagrants. On their persons he found the walnut box, and the pocket book containing the gold and currency. The gold was a base imitation, and the currency was worthless Tennessee and Indiana bank bills and counterfeit greenbacks. The charge of vagrancy was sustained, and Messrs. Gladly and McLemore having no current money at hand, were committed to the calaboose for the period of thirty days.

Gen. Anderson, Columbus. Wm. White, Paducah. Jim Watson, Fronton. Glasgow, Cincinnati. Atlantic, New Orleans. A. Baker, Eastport. Rob't Fulton, Memphis. Continental, St. Louis.

The weather underwent a radical change yesterday evening. A heavy rain fell about 6 p.m., lasting nearly an hour, and during the night a high north wind arose, which still prevails and renders the atmosphere quite chilly. Clouds entirely obscure the sun, which adds to the dreary discomfort of the day.

The fall in the Mississippi continues, and the Missouri is about stationary.

The Ohio is unchanged at Pittsburg, with 22 inches water, and falling at Louisville, with three feet two inches in the canal. The Lower Ohio is at the same stage as at last report.

Here the river has fallen four inches since last report.

Business is not so active. The waves caused by the high wind today in the Ohio, on account of the absence of any current, were so large as to rock the boats at the wharf and endanger heavily laden coal and other barges.

The splendid sterner Longworth will leave for New Orleans this evening. No better opportunity can be found for passenger going southward, as boat and officers stand A. No. 1.

The Great Republic has been sold to Pittsburg parties for $90,000. Her original cost was near $250,00. Capt. Wm. B. Donaldson will command her. The White, Capt. Northern, is the regular packet for Paducah this evening.
